KidTalk Therapy Services, Inc. is now accepting resumes for Speech-Language Pathologist (SLP) and Clinical Fellowship (CF) positions in Los Angeles County, for the remainder of 2009/10 school year. We want to ensure a compatible and professional match, so please indicate any specific preferences and/or interests,
Note: In order to place you in consideration for a SLP position, we must have a copy of your resume. We will be unable to schedule an interview with school district personnel, without documentation of your credentials and work experience.
Fax or email to James Glenn.

Description:

This full time Speech-Language Pathology (SLP) position is working with school-aged students from kindergarten to eighth grade, within a public school district setting. The duration is after Christmas break, through the end of school year.
The SLP shall perform the following duties, including, but not limited to, screenings, evaluations, Individual Education Plans (IEPs), IEP meetings, parent/teacher conferences, report writing, and treatment sessions. The SLP will comply with all state and federal laws and regulations and any other applicable rules, guidelines, and/or requirements of the school(s) and/or school district(s) to which SLP is assigned.

Location:

This position is working within an East Los Angeles County public school district. It is full time for the remainder of school year, with the expectation that the therapist will return next school year. We will consider a therapist just finishing out the school year, and prefer someone interested in keeping this position next year as well.
Please call anytime, or even text me if it's very late, for more information. We will keep in contact with this school districts Director over break, and hope to have this position filled ASAP. Thank you for taking the time to view our website, which is still under construction.
